

Trantor Creates an Innovative App to Create and Share Music across the World

The Challenge

The client wanted to create a music sharing platform to enable online collaboration for musicians. They wanted a multi-platform, innovative app that should allow long distance jamming and create tunes that can be shared with the network. Technological feasibility was a major challenge to develop such app on varied platforms.

The Solution

Trantor started with creating a Proof of Concept that included the core feature of the app, i.e., creating beats and tracks. The team followed agile methodology and developed wireframes for all the modules on ROR platform.

Trantor developed the application on various platforms, including iOS, Android, and a web application. Other improvements were:

- Optimized code to maintain the pace of recording and uniform pattern of beats
- Built-in audio editing tool to allow users edit their tracks as they want

The Client

The client wanted a recording mobile app that allows artists and all music lovers create, browse, record, edit and share tracks with the community.
